

CAMILLE SAVEDRA, Attorney

Camille Savedra is an associate attorney currently litigating cases in a wide variety of matters including real estate, employment, family and contract disputes. Known for strong writing skills, strategic thinking, and client advocacy, Ms. Savedra brings a practical and results-driven approach to every case.

Ms. Savedra entered law school with over a decade of client advocacy from working the frontlines of the criminal justice system for both defense and prosecution offices. During law school, Ms. Savedra learned how to evaluate legal issues from a judicial perspective after completing two judicial externships, one for the Honorable Karen S. Crawford, U.S. Magistrate Judge and at the California Court of Appeal, Fourth District, for the Honorable Associate Justice Terry B. O'Rourke. Prior to joining CHPL, Ms. Savedra gained experience litigating complex class-action securities fraud cases.

Ms. Savedra enjoys painting, photography, caring for hummingbirds, and is a member of the San Diego Mineral and Gem Society.
